Koehler Paper announces price increase for its thermal paper product range of up to 12% in selected markets, effective for new orders

Oberkirch, Germany, 09/08/2023 – Koehler Paper, leading manufacturer of thermal papers, has announced a price increase of up to 12% due to significant price erosion over the last months, combined with ongoing cost increases across the board.

While some markets have experienced more significant price deflation than others, business performance has decreased globally and makes this step unavoidable.

Customers will be contacted directly by the Koehler sales team to discuss individually.

More about the Koehler Group

The Koehler Group was founded in 1807 and has been family-run to this day. The Group's core area of business is the development and production of high-quality, specialty paper, including thermal paper, playing card board, drink coasters, fine paper, carbonless paper, recycled paper, decor paper, wood pulp board, sublimation paper, and, since 2019, innovative specialty paper for the packaging industry, too. In Germany, the Koehler Group, with its around 2,500 employees, has five production sites, as well as three more in the USA. The Group operates on an international level, with an export ratio of more about 75% in 2022 and annual revenue of 1.3 billion euro.

As an energy-intensive enterprise, Koehler invests with its unit Koehler Renewable Energy in renewable energy projects such as wind energy, hydroelectric power, photovoltaics, and biomass. The Koehler Group has committed itself to producing more energy from renewable sources than is needed for paper production by 2030.

With the business unit Koehler Innovative Solutions, Koehler collaborates with start-ups to promote innovations in the core business areas of paper and renewable energy.
